

Information of close of Metropolitan biotechnology network homepage

Thank you very much for receiving special kindness usually about every industry of our society.

The metropolitan area biotechnology network started operations aiming at the biotechnology cluster formation that represented the world in July, 2002. It consists of .bioventures and support enterprises. Around 450 present companies put together, and it has acted for the biotechnology business creation in the metropolitan area.

However, it came to close the homepage on March 31, 2002 this time by various circumstances such as changes of the environment that surrounded the industrial cluster and business policy in the market.

Thank you indeed for your attention to homepage.

One side, in the meaning of a progressive change, the activity is scheduled to be executed continuously as a metropolitan biotechnology network. It will be informs to everybody who have been registered in the guide such as events and magazines etc by e-mail in near future.

Moreover, we will manage and delete information on the member's data base taking the responsibility for the secretariat.

Please continue your favors toward still further support in the future and cooperation.
